COL. R. G. EVANS PLEDGES BOYLE TO BECKHAM

Former Governor Given Magnificent Reception When He Speaks In Danville for Wilson

The valiant democracy of Boyle county which suffered the humiliation of seeing its chosen representative betray it, when Lillard voted for Bradley, was pledged to rectify the wrong then done, by Col. Robert G. Evans, on last Saturday, when he introduced former Governor J. C. W. Beckham to an audience which taxed the capacity of the courthouse. Gov. Beckham was there, speaking on behalf of the national democratic ticket, and Col. Evans in introducing him, took a happy occasion to pledge him that the democracy of Boyle will be found voting solidly for him for the nomination for senator in the primary next year. Col. Evans' eloquent introduction of the distinguished and beloved leader, was as follows:

"The highest and noblest feeling planted by God in the human heart is that of justice. It is the foundation on which are builded all governments which live. It is the foundation on which is builded every character which learns its duty well and which helps the world to ripen for higher and better things. It is the force behind the inspiring thought:

"Then, on, then on where duty leads My course be onward still."

"But when justice is half written into the statute books, or half forgotten, or trampled upon and strangled by Pratorian guards, then does the government, however, ancient, and however glorious totter to its fall and its greatness and its glory live only on the pages of history.

"Governments too often fail to properly reward or remember certain of their servants who have rendered brave and heroic service, who have been conspicuous in deeds and efforts, which resulted in planting above their country or their state lights which were to shine forever. By this indifference many patriots and heroes sleep in unknown or forgotten graves. And yet they live.

"That government walks a cripple which allows the man who has done the state a great service to fail of his reward. The man who has had the peculiar courage to bravely stand out and right a wrong is the real statesman, is the man whose name should be a household word and help to keep the fires burning on the altars of every home.

"There is no virtue so truly great and God-like as justice, and Kentucky, so brave and true in all else, will not be—is not—lacking in this great virtue.

"To the southwest of the green plains that girdle the rock of Saltzburgh the peasants of the valley point out to the traveler a spot far up among its limestone crags, and tell him that within Barbarossa lies amid his knights in an enchanted sleep, waiting the hour when the ravens shall cease to hover round the peak, and the pear tree again blossom in the valley to descend and bring back to Germany the golden age of peace and strength and unity.

"Just so, in our own fair and beloved state. How often in the unhappy days which have followed since the rape of a United States Senatorship in the old statehouse at Frankfort, when Boyle county's victory Boyle county's sacred promise, Boyle county's honor were whistled down the wind a prey to fortune, you more were made the bedraggled companion of treason—how often, since those unhappy days, have we of Boyle county sighed for the day when justice should awaken from her long sleep and her shield should be brought back and hung aloft again, as of old, in the midst of the camp, bearing the bright and shining and glorious words:

"Fair play has come home. The square deal stands waiting to right a wrong. Kentucky's pride and honor, Boyle county's promise and manhood are redeemed—redeemed, for justice has awakened, Beckham has come into his own and Boyle county pledges him, above any and all, her loyal and undivided support."

The Advocate said: "Col. Evans' speech was received with tremendous applause, the sentiment of which appealed to the sterling democrats of Boyle county, which stands ready to make reparation to Gov. Beckham and to reclaim its good name. More people than the court house could accommodate greeted Gov. Beckham when he arose to speak, a large number being turned away. Gov. Beckham then launched upon his speech, which was interrupted with sincere applause and was one of the most brilliant of his career as his reception here had given him an inspiration."

Crap Shooters Caught

Night Policeman John Meeks raided a crap game late Friday night and caught Pete Craig, Sandy Cook and Jim Baughman, colored, and a white boy named Jones. The negroes were tried in Judge Menefee's court Monday morning and Craig and Cook were fine $20 each, while Baughman was acquitted, it developing that he was merely an on-looker. Jones has not yet been tried.

High School Football Team Beaten By Deaf Boys—School News

(By James Cooper.)

The Stanford High School team played its second game of the season with the eleven from the School for the Deaf of Danville on Friday afternoon and Stanford was defeated by a score of 18 to 0. The game was a rather rough one from start to finish. The deaf boys have an excellent team this season, and while the home boys are sady crippled by the absence from the line-up of a number of the best men of the past seasons, still they put up a good hard game. Each member of the local eleven played well, considering the few games and little practice indulged in this year, and nearly all of the local boys are playing their first time in the line-up. The line-up of the two elevens was as follows:

S. H. S.	position	S. for D.
Woods	left end	McGarrigal
T. Coleman	left tackle	M. yers
H. Davis	left guard	Wilder
Grimes	center	Dyer
Mobley	right guard	Myers
J. Hill	right tackle	Leitchfield
Hoeker	right end	Dedman
S. Hill	quarterback	Turner
C. Coleman	left half	Queen
H. Farmer	full back	Memier

Touchdowns were made by Turner and McGarrigal in the first quarter and by Leitchfield in the third quarter. No goal was kicked.

The graded school football team played Danville's public school team last Saturday on the C. U. grounds at Danville; at least, that was the team they went over there to play, but before the game was over, rather than be beaten, Danville put in even some of the C. U. men. With such a line-up against them, the graded school boys put up a remarkably good game, but lost, 13 to 0. All of the Stanford team had never practiced together, and if they get out and work this week, they are sure to beat them over here this coming Saturday. Each one played a clean game and it was very interesting from start to finish. With "Hughes" along as chapman, everything went off all right. The line-up was as follows:

Stanford	position	Danville
C. VonGruenigen	left end	Rogers
W. Mobley	left tackle	Williams
E. Givens	left guard	Harmon
H. Wilkinson	center	King
C. Cooper	right guard	Veach
J. Hoeker	right tackle	Parks
P. Brown	right end	Jean
H. Shanks	quarterback	Scota
W. Carson	left half	Rogers
J. T. Embry	right half	Dunn
R. Powell	full back	Frank

M'KINNEY VOTERS

Turn Out In Large Numbers To Hear Democratic Speeches

By far the best crowd that has greeted a public speaker in McKinney in years gathered there Monday evening to hear Hon. Henry Breckinridge and Hon. Oscar Letcher, who are stumping the state in the interest of the democratic ticket. And right well was the audience paid for its coming. Mr. Breckinridge spoke first and for an hour held the sept attention of his hearers with an exhaustive and instructive discussion of the tariff and its evils. Mr. Breckinridge is an earnest and convincing speaker, and he gave his hearers something to think about.

Mr. Letcher was next introduced by W. S. Burch and immediately launched into a summary of the political situation as portrayed by Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt, saying that the charges each was making against the other were, no doubt, well founded, as a very close acquaintance had heretofore existed between the two men. He is something of an orator, tells a joke well and has the happy faculty of pleasing all who hear him.

Democracy is in the pink of condition everywhere, the speakers declared, and they are confident that the election of Wilson and Marshall is only a question of majority if the democrats will only go to the polls on election day.

Precinct Campaign Chairman S. M. Owens, who presided and worked up the big meeting, says that all the prominent democrats of his section will be in Stanford for the closing rally on the afternoon of Nov. 2.

FINAL RALLY

Of Campaign to be Held Here For Democracy on Nov. 2.

County Campaign Chairman W. L. McCarty has been advised by State Campaign Chairman Camden that Saturday, November 2, has been set apart by the State Campaign Committee for the final rallying of the democratic hosts in Kentucky prior to the decisive battle on November 5th. In the county seat of every county in the state at 2 o'clock that afternoon there will be one or more speeches delivered in the interest of the national democratic ticket and the congressional nominees.

Chairman McCarty has been notified that a speaker of recognized ability will be sent to Stanford on that date and he is making every effort to make this a memorable day for democracy. In addition to the speaker yet to be named, the best local talent will be heard and every thing points to a gala day for democracy on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 2d. In the meantime every point in the county will be thoroughly canvassed and the voters kept constantly in touch with the speakers' bureau, so that they may be advised of the situation politically and otherwise, not only locally but in the nation.

Each issue of the I. J. will contain a list of the speaking appointments for the county as they are announced by Chairman McCarty. All of them will take place between now and Nov. 2d, when the finishing touches so far as Lincoln county is concerned will be made by the assembling of the democratic hosts at the courthouse for a general love feast and flow of democratic oratory. Let every democrat attend and see that his neighbor does likewise.

PITCHED BATTLE FOUGHT OVER IN PULASKI

When Relatives Try to Take Alleged Murderer Away From Chief Of Police Henry Waddle

Somerset, Ky., Oct. 20.—A regular running pitched battle between Chief of Police H. G. Waddle, of Somerset, and two deputies on the one side, and a number of relatives of James Phelps, a prisoner occurred about 10 o'clock this morning, 12 miles east of Somerset, in Pulaski county. Chief Waddle thinks one man was killed or at least badly wounded, as he saw him fall after he fired and during the exchange of shots between the chief and his deputies and the relatives, who were trying to rescue the prisoner from the officers.

It is charged that Phelps some months ago shot and killed Riley Price, who was one of the most prominent teachers in the county, and who had served a term as assessor of Pulaski county, as the latter was riding horseback on his way to his school. The killing took place in a secluded spot, where the road skirted a clump of bushes and the weapon was a shotgun loaded with buckshot.

Phelps left the country at the time, it is alleged and had not been heard of. A reward was offered by Gov. McCreary for his arrest. Chief Waddle got news of the fact that Phelps had been seen around his old home place and he left for there this morning, and found him at home in company with some others.

The officers took him by surprise and arrested him. He asked permission to telephone his sweetheart saying he would come to Somerset to jail with them. He evidently gave warning for they had not gotten far with their prisoner until a number of relatives and friends overtook the officers and demanded that the prisoner be released.

Chief Waddle says the firing began after one of the men had administered a hard kick to him and that a volley of shots was fired. The officers then proceeded with the prisoner toward Somerset and stopped for lunch several miles from the scene of the first trouble, and here they received a telephone message from a friend, warning them to hurry on as a crowd was on their trail to retake the prisoner from them.

Chief Waddle says they had not gone far when they were again overtaken and another pitched battle occurred, and it was in this fight he saw one of the men fall, and he thinks he was killed, while he believes several others were wounded. None of the officers was wounded. They arrived at Somerset with the prisoner and placed him in jail. The only statement the prisoner made with reference to the killing of Price was that he had to do it.
